MONTEVIDEAN IMBROGLIO.

The late events in the Mount confirm the opinion of those who watch the affairs of Uruguay; there is not the slightest doubt that the embryonic attempt at revolution is only a minor branch of a great ramification spreading all over Montevideo and several other parts of the country. Orders of arrest were issued by the Government against several civilians, but they are safe in this city and are even supposed to be closely watched by spies of the Santos Government. It is becoming daily more evident that the actual Government in the Mount is tottering on very volcanic foundations.

The name of the promoter of the mutinies and of the head of the revolutionary movement is already known in Buenos Aires, but it is kept under reserve for many reasons. At all events, the latest advices from Montevideo shew plainly that the Government is quite aware of the danger of the situation, and cabinet councils daily succeed each other.

The escape of the young Argentine, Castro, has made a very bad impression on the Government, and President Santos, who evidently knows much more of barrack regulations than of international relations, resents the officious intervention of the Argentine Minister of Foreign Affairs. A Cabinet Council was summoned by his Excellency to discuss the matter, and the upshot of same was that the Argentine Government had proceeded within the rigorous bounds of international law.

The mutiny in the barracks has been followed by the speedy payment of all outstandings to the soldiers; it is meantime whispered that several commanders will be arrested on suspicion. The most melancholy feature of the question is the general belief that the unfortunate soldiers who were arrested, have been executed. If this be true, the executions must be stamped as barbarous. There are hopes of saving the arrested officers, as the press in general, with the exception of the official organ, plead for them, but, slow as Uruguayan justice is with the ordinary criminal, it is proverbially speedy and simple when political criminals are concerned. These unfortunate officers may be shot between night and morning, and the barbarity of such an act could not be even excused by the gravity of the offence or of the situation of the Government in the actual emergencies.

Political animosity in the Plate rises to such a pitch that one cannot give full credit to all the accounts from Oriental refugees on this side of the river, but they reflect the political animous that is breathed in the Uruguay. They stigmatize the Santos Government as the most corrupt, ignorant and despotic ever known in the Banda Oriental, where there exists a mellowed experience of bad Government. The Government, they say, is simply bankrupt, but both President and Ministers are coining money, buying estancias and Durham bulls, and building palaces in the capital. They prefer the iron rule of Latorre to the actual cynical display of constitutional power. If this be the general feeling throughout the Banda Oriental, the Santos Government cannot last long; if Santos can fetter the country to his heels, in spite of such bitter opposition, his enemies must give him at least some credit for abilities that baffle all the revolutionary genius of his countrymen. In spite of all the opprobrium heaped on his shoulders, and of the seething corruption of his Government, the people have been unable to throw off the shackles and the trade of the republic has increased in a most unexpected ratio. The Orientales have either dropped their traditional reputation of successful revolutionists, or the opposition is of a hollow nature, and merely exists in the eloquent abuse poured forth in the columns of the newspapers. The future, however, is very hazy, and the events that have transpired may be the melancholy prelude, the mere episodes, of a tragic convulsion of affairs in Montevideo.

THE NECESSITY FOR A STATISTICAL OFFICE.

The want of well organised Statistical Offices in each Province, or even say here and in Rosario, prevents us from knowing with any exactness the true state of the growth of our wheat industry, and the giant stride it has taken within the past five years. Only persons actually engaged in this business, such as exporters, millers, and wheat growers, can give at all a fair estimate, and even that is founded solely on the increase in the number of squares sewed in former years in the different provinces, calculating so many fanegas to the square square. Our Government must very clearly see that this state of affairs cannot be tolerated, and if it wish still further to increase the high credit it enjoys to-day abroad, the establishing of Statistical Offices in some of the provinces, not only for this industry alone, but also for the many others which have recently sprung into existence, would be one of the surest and best means it could possibly adopt. The many benefits that will accrue to the country by the success which has attended the sowing of wheat in our fertile territory can not be over estimated. There are thousands of sturdy wheat growers in Europe to-day who, did they know the many advantages that this country offers them for the growing of this cereal, and the great success which has attended the present cultivators, would be only too glad to come here, and what's more, bring some capital with them. If we had well managed Statistical Offices here, and the reports of same published in the different languages and scattered through the various countries of Europe, it would do much more in the cause of immigration than all the namby-pamby agents specially appointed by our Government to-day. Let us take for example the wine industry in Algeria. The Frenchmen at home, seeing that this industry was on the wane, and all their vines had become infected with the phylloxera, a great number of them emigrated to Algeria, where they prospered much better, and drew larger profits from their vineyards. In the same way there are thousands of wheat growers scattered through Europe trying to make used-up land yield them a fair profit, who, did they know of our fertile territory and the success which attends the wheat growers here, would most certainly come and try their luck. This fact in itself should be a sufficient reason for our Government to at once see about the establishing of Statistical Offices.

With the exception of the National Statistical Department, which makes up its tables from reports sent in from the different provinces, and from the imports and exports passed through our Custom House, properly speaking we have no statistical office; most of the provinces do not attempt to make up a report, at least in regard to the cultivation of cereals, and those few that do, their statements are oftentimes so erroneous that they cannot be relied on. In the United States there are special statistical offices for this class of industry, and anyone can find out without any difficulty the quantity sown, reaped, and exported. Besides these they have classifying offices where the various wheats from the different states are classified, so that a person applying at this office, can determine without visiting the different agricultural districts, where the good and inferior quality of wheats are grown. In Chile the statistical offices are of the highest order, and the following table containing the production of wheat for the past ten years will not fail to be interesting. We should be able to do the same thing here, without appending to the estimated production the often-used term "mas o menos." The following is the table:—

	Kilos
1872	378,400,000
1873	499,900,000
1874	456,800,000
1875	389,160,000
1876	345,600,000
1877	299,600,000
1878	273,300,000
1879	375,000,000
188	461,400,000

There was not a man either here or in Chile 5 years ago who would believe that this Republic could possibly produce more wheat than Chile, yet the fact stands that our wheat production this year will exceed that of Chile by more than half a million of kilograms, basing the calculation on the above table.

Mr Alois E. Fleiss has recently written several very interesting letters in our colleague the Nacion on this industry. He spared no pains in hunting up the data, items, etc, which he published, and his estimate for this year's production is the nearest to the mark that we have seen yet, though, unfortunately, for want of a proper statistical office, his calculations are made up on the 'mas ó menos' system. He estimates that there is at least 260,000 square squares sown with wheat this year in the Provinces of Santa Fe and Buenos Aires, not including Mendoza, Cordoba, San Luis and Entre Rios; calculating from former years, that each square, counting on a fair year, will give at least 2000 kilos per cuadra, the sum total is, 520,000,000 kilos. If we add to this the production of the above provinces and Chubut, the total production will not be much under 600,000,000 kilos, which, if compared with the above figures of Chilian production, it can be seen at a glance how much more wheat we produce than Chile.

Notwithstanding the above figures the wheat industry of the Argentine Republic is very little known in the great wheat markets of the world, whilst that of Chile is in the same category with those of the Black Sea and other great wheat countries in the other hemisphere. The fault is our own, and the want of proper statistical offices is the sole cause of this obscurity with regard to the wheat industry of the Argentine Republic.

As a proof of the difference of opinion held by parties here with regard to the production of this cereal, we were rather astonished at reading in the Capital of Rosario, a paper that ought to be well up on this subject, that the total production of wheat in the Argentine Republic did not reach 100,000,000 kilos yet, which is very erroneous when compared with the above figures. This paper has fallen into this error by quoting from false returns, which as long as affairs continue in the way they do, cannot be remedied. An office of this kind must be started sooner or later, and the present prosperous year is a sufficient guarantee to our Government of the proportions that this industry will take in the future, and at the same time of the necessity of at once starting a proper Statistical Office.

LONDON LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

A DULL SATURDAY.

January 6th, 1883.

Outwardly, the world seems debating whether on to-morrow the funeral of Gambetta is to be civil, as his political friends wish, or religious, as his father wishes. It will probably be that the body of the late Tribune will be honoured with grand obsequies from the Palais Bourbon to the railway station, and there corpse and coffin will be delivered to his friends to bury and pray over as they will. Meanwhile, a very sagacious and trustworthy evening paper in London, publishes—under all reserve—the information that German subjects in London have received notice from their Government to hold themselves in readiness to serve their country, the notice being similar to that received in 1870. I do not see that the announcement is either confirmed or denied by the other papers. In fact, people have made up their minds to wait and say nothing, and go on with the children's parties and pantomimes. The society papers, like all the rest, are indescribably dull and utterly without interest to people abroad. There is, in fact, nothing in general news for you to notice except the meeting of the Uruguay bondholders, which was to have taken place on Wednesday.

In the Times of this morning there are three outside communications of interest from America and the Antipodes. One on "American Shipping," one on the "Land Question" in New South Wales, and one on "Mr. Edison's success in Electric Lighting in New York." In respect to the witnesses who have given their opinions to the Committee of Congress at New York, in regard to the American shipping trade, they all acknowledge the depressed condition of the interest, but the shipbuilders amongst them appear to see no remedy but in more protection, more subsidies, bounties and discriminating duties. These men, a John Roach of Delaware River, or a John Smith, or whatever they may be, are great "bosses" in their own commercial communities, but it is pleasant to remember that the best of them are only a shade above better-class mechanics, and their opinions on legislation and political economy are just about as valuable as a Whitechapel money-lender's opinion on the laws of usage and interest.

The news from Sidney is that Parliament has been unexpectedly dissolved on the Land Bill. The contested points refer to the question between Crown Lessees and the interlopers who, under the existing law, select lands for purchase on the runs of the lessees. These have been driven into straining their credit so as to acquire the freeholds of their runs; thus we account for the swollen revenues of the colony from large sales of land:—"There is a growing dislike," says the letter from Sidney, "to this state of things, which is considered unsound socially, industrial and financially." This confirms what I have written to you lately on the subject on many occasions.

The letter from New York, on the Edison Lights, is of great value. The success of the distribution and measurement by meter, just as in gas lighting, seems to raise the electric system out of its apparent experimental period. An order to light the Boston Bijou Theatre, with 650 lights, was completed in eleven days. In Boston there are none of the municipal and legislative restrictions which so much impede electric lighting in England. Mr. Edison is working incessantly and quietly, and never answers questions. The reputation of his inventions suffered much formerly from imperfect descriptions given by officious friends and interviewers. He is supposed to have solved many problems in respect to economy of light and expenditure. He says, to his mind, "the price of gas in England is the one factor in the problem which requires solution." It is to this problem he has applied himself with so much success.

In the American papers I see an interesting account of the present condition of Rugby, in Tennessee, "where Tom Hughes, "as the Ohio Register says, "laid down many a dollar he forgot to tie a string to." Rugby started three years ago with a grand rush to show what could be done by "blood" by "English gentlemen" and so on, when they choose to encounter the mob of democracy on their own ground. Well, this is what occurred. Houses and squares and hotels rose up, amid delicious hills covered with too absurdly beautiful rhododendrons. People flocked from all directions of the country to the English paradise. Town lots sold at wonderful prices, the whole under the management of two born Yankees, the Messrs Clarke, father and son. The land originally cost one dollar the acre, and Clarke wanted to sell part at 200 dollars, but the Englishmen lost their heads and would not hear of it, so the Clarkes resigned in disgust, and now—the place is almost deserted. Rugby is mortgaged for 60,000 dollars, and if some live American would jump in and buy the place with all the acres attached, he would, with proper management, make a fortune.

Mr. Gavan, M.P., for Monaghan, has accepted the Under-Secretaryship for Ireland.

The Araucania's Mails.

A Blue Book was issued yesterday containing correspondence respecting the expulsion of the Cuban refugees from Gibraltar. The text of Lord Kimberley's despatch on this subject to Lord Napier of Magdala will be found in another part of our impression.

A despatch has been received at the Colonial Office from the Governor of Jamaica on the subject of the recent great fire there. It states that the desolation is complete within the area ravaged, that is almost all the business part of Kingston. "To large portions," adds the Governor, "I have seen nothing comparable but the ruins of Pompeii—literally nothing is left but cracked and blackened walls." The despatch concludes by an appeal for charitable assistance from this country.

Our Correspondent at Maritzburg telegraphs that Cetewayo on leaving Capetown expressed his determination to preserve the friendship of England, but was greatly apprehensive with regard to the result of the conditions of his restoration.

Our Correspondent in Wiesbaden telegraphs that notwithstanding clear cold weather, the Rhine remained at the highest point for twenty-four hours, even rising a few inches on Thursday night. Friesenheim, near Worms, is entirely destroyed. Not one house is left standing. At Oppau, 170 houses have fallen. Of 19 streets only two were free of water, and in these 2,300 persons were encamped. Great quantities of wreckage and many bodies of animals were drifting down the river. Our Correspondent in Vienna telegraphs that dry, cold weather has set in there. Towards noon yesterday the water ceased to rise, and it had since fallen about two inches.

Our New York Correspondent says that the promptness and unanimity with which the Civil Service Reform Bill has been passed by the House of Representatives causes much astonishment. The public sentiment, he adds, is strongly in favour of the measure, and its adoption opens a new era in American politics.

In concluding the series of public meetings held preparatory to his election, Sir Charles Dilke last night addressed a numerous gathering at Fulham. He drew attention to the progress made in a Liberal direction during the time, more than fourteen years, in which he had been member for Chelsea, and pointed out the desirability of the Radical party acting in harmony with, rather than separate from, the great body of the Liberals generally.

Speaking at Bursiam last night, Mr. Woodham, M.P., referred to foreign competition, and said the signs of the times were unmistakable. Both abroad and at home we saw evidences of increased powers of production, which were only to be interpreted as meaning a keener competition. Manufacturers everywhere agreed in the fact, at any rate, that the times of high prices were things of the past. There was a great demand for cheap articles, but he was happy to say that, in spite of this cry for cheapness, there was a steady appreciation of good quality.

At Mallow, yesterday, Mr. Naish made a canvass of the freemen of the borough, and in the evening proceeded to Cork. The friends of Mr. Moriarty and Mr. O'Brien were also canvassing. Mr. Johnson, the late member, has telegraphed, repudiating the statement that Mr. Moriarty's candidature had his approval, and declaring that his sympathies were with Mr. Naish. Mr. Goulding has not yet issued an address.

The Metropolitan Board of Works yesterday resolved, by a large majority, to inform the Lord Chamberlain that having again had before it the matter of the Criterion Theatre, the Board was of opinion that it was not necessary to close that structure pending the consideration of the plans before it, and that his Lordship might properly grant a provisional licence for a period of three months. Letters were read from the Lord Chamberlain with reference to the Connaught Theatre, stating that he had declined to re-issue a licence for it; and one from the Home Office to the manager of the Alcazar (Connaught) calling upon him to discontinue the performances there.

Although the public interest in the suicide of Dr. Edwardes at Hounslow has by no means decreased, the riots which have made the place notorious within the last few days are not likely to be repeated, at any rate until Wednesday next, the date of the adjourned inquest. Everything was quiet in the town last night, but the examination of the prisoners charged with stone-throwing, etc., which will take place at Brentford to-day, is looked forward to with considerable interest.

Mr. W. J. Payne, the City Coroner, yesterday held an inquest on the body of Mr. Morris Simeon Oppenheim, a barrister, 58 years of age, who shot himself with a revolver at his chambers in the Temple, on Wednesday. The evidence tended to show that the deceased gentleman, who had obtained a considerable practice at the bar, had lately manifested symptoms of mental decay, and the jury by their verdict attributed the suicide to an attack of temporary insanity.

Yesterday the weather was less changeable and unsettled in almost all parts of the kingdom, with rain in most places. Temperature rose generally, and ranged from 51 deg. at Scilly to 40 deg. over the north of England.

Our Constantinople Correspondent telegraphs:

"Mr. Sartoris died this morning. He is a great loss to the diplomatic service, as he was a man of signal ability and great industry.

GAMBETTA'S FUNERAL.

Paris Jany. 6th.

M. Gambetta's death has weighed heavily on M. Grévy's spirits, and, it is to be apprehended, has affected his general health.

M. Deroulede, the ill-conditioned fellow, albeit a poet, who recently made a riotous assault upon a German beer house, which it required good temper on the part of diplomacy not to make a question of, made a brawling scene around M. Gambetta's coffin to-day. Seeing there M. Mayer, editor of the Lanterne, he insulted him, saying, "Who authorised you to be here—you who were a calumniator of the deceased?" Blows and a scuffle ensued. The public separated the combatants, and a friend and former secretary of M. Gambetta expressed sorrow for M. Deroulede's conduct.

Father Hyacinthe is going to preach a funeral sermon on M. Gambetta in his Rue d'Arras Chapel on Sunday, under the patronage of a Scotch Bishop who will be present, for the French Catholic Church clings to apostolical support.

All the lycœums and public schools in Paris make holiday to-morrow, and in many the boys subscribe for crowns to be placed on the coffin.

The Gaulois has a telegram from Nice which reports an interview with M. Gambetta's sister and father. Madame Leris said:—

"My brother will be buried here, by my mother's side. If it had been proposed to inter him in the Panthéon, we would not have objected, but rather than Père Lachaise we prefer Nice." "And when will the Nice funeral be?" "On Tuesday. The municipality pays the expenses, and it will be as splendid here as in Paris." Then came a burning question. "Is it true that your father insists on religious rites for his son?" At this moment an old man entered the room, and said, "I heard, sir, the question you just put to my daughter. After mature reflection, I do not think I can go against the convictions of my poor son. He will have a civil interment according to the ideas which he always professed. I leave Paris to do what it likes. Afterwards he will be brought here."

The funeral car is being constructed after a design by M. Bastien Lepage and M. Becker. It will be formed of a lofty catafalque on a wheeled platform. Incense burners will be placed at each angle, and flags will be grouped round the coffin.

The gas and the electric lamps in the Place de la Concorde will be lighted and veiled in crape. All the statues in that square will be in black. A platform has been erected at the entrance to Père Lachaise, on which those who are to make funeral orations are to stand when speaking.

The deputations are so numerous that the organisers of the funeral cannot find space for them all. They have been granted standing room in the Place des Invalides and along the Quai d'Orsay to the Petit Bourbon. This makes an area of twenty-five thousand metres. A hundred thousand would not be too much.

So great is the quantity of flowers around the coffin as to render the atmosphere of the mortuary chamber asphyxiating. An usher on duty there to-day fell down insensible and was with difficulty restored to consciousness. The pile of crowns and bouquets takes colossal proportions.

M. Challemel Lacour will be one of the orators who will speak at Pere Lachaise. He will be deputed by those engaged in the National Defence with M. Gambetta.

SHEEPSKINS.

II.

That is the curse of every evil deed:
The never ceasing evils springing from its seed.
Thus if "artistas" choose to drive the prices, hence
"Acopiadores" are the evil consequence.

The above verses are taken from an inedited work of Brandet, and they involve more truth than all the proverbs of 'Sancho Panza' together.

Some years ago when the two Messrs. B. and the two Messrs. C. were the head buyers in the Once market, one could say what a lot of wool was worth, for instance: One of the Messrs. C. would have valued a lot at 80 and the other one at $82 m|c., meanwhile the two Messrs. B. would have put down $81 m|c as the market rate. Now-a-days a lot which is valued by four barraqueros at 80-82 is frequently sold the same day at $88-90 m|c and nobody is astonished about it, since people have become gradually blunted by this sort of humbug, which is going on in our Plazas since the last four or five years.

As a matter of course 'acopiadores' are sanguine like all people who have nothing to lose 'sauf l'honneur,' and the highest prices which are paid are always taken by them as the market value.

Formerly the consignees could give their customers more or less an idea what their wool would bring in the market; to-day this is impossible, since it has become a hazardous game whether to find an 'artista' who takes an interest in your wool, or not. An 'acopiador' who works with foreign money runs this chance, and if he succeeds, he gains, if not, the consignee loses. That's a safe business.

I believe the above remarks will be sufficient to prove that the great development of the 'acopiador' system is mostly or perhaps wholly due to the irregularity of prices in the Plazas.

I remind you of the example, given in letter IV on wool, of the 23 'acopiadores' who went out by the first train after the sale at $98 m|c.

Much can be said against the 'acopiador' system, and not one of the least evils is, that the wool of one estancia, in consequence of the buyer having no sufficient funds to receive and pay the whole lot at once, is sent to town in small fractions.

This is entirely inconvenient for the barraquero and exporter, who are daily obliged to mix one wool with another one, in order to make up a saleable quantity.

The manufacturers, of course, will never be contented if they receive the wools of different establishments mixed up, as everybody knows who has the slightest idea of what wool manufacturing means.

As long as the mixture is made here by experienced hands, it may do for certain purposes, but it will bring our wools into great discredit in Europe, if these infernal mixtures, made by the 'acopiadores,' continue to come to the market.

The high reputation which our wools have gained on the European Continent dates from the days when Don Miguel was selling in the Plaza Once 20 bullock-carts from one, and 25 from another estancia. Had the 'acopiador' system been so developed from the beginning, our wools would have never come into such favor.

Having shown above how it was a natural consequence that since I commenced to write against the 'acopiadores,' I could not spare my friends the 'artistas' altogether, I hope that after this declaration they will not continue to look so savage—no, this is a wrong expression, no man with a violet necktie looks like a savage—I mean to say so cross, when they meet me in the street, and let me have again a part of that gentle smile which I mentioned before as so characteristic of them.

Suddenly I find out that this letter is headed "Sheepskins" but does not contain a word about them. Strange coincidence!—but, stop, there is the Telephone bell ringing worse than Balvanera; "revenons à nos peaux de moutons" to-morrow.

SUICIDE OF THE AUSTRIAN AMBASSADOR AT PARIS.

Paris, Dec. 31st.

With profound grief I have to inform you that Count Wimpffen, the Austrian Ambassador here, shot himself yesterday morning. This suicide took place under circumstances so painful as scarcely to be credible. The Count, who last June was a second time appointed to the French Embassy, had since been stopping at the Hotel Meurice, in which with the Countess and two daughters, twelve and ten years of age, he occupied rooms, those of the Countess looking out on the Rue de Rivoli, and the others on the inner court.

Yesterday Count Wimpffen rose rather earlier then usual, he took his first breakfast, after which he withdrew to his room, where he remained alone till 10.15. He then went out and crossed the Rue Rivoli to the pavement running along the Tuileries gardens. Here he stayed for a minute looking at the windows of the hotel, after which he went on towards the Place de la Concorde.

As at one o'clock he had not reappeared; and this was the time he was in the habit of going down with his family to the dining-room on the ground-floor, the Countess sent to inquire whether he had not come back. On a reply in the negative she sent to the Austrian Embassy, Rue Las Cases, to see whether he was there.

At half-past one the First Secretary of the Embassy, M. de Zichy, who had just been informed by the Prefect of the Police of what had happened, arrived at the hotel. He entered the Count's room, where he found four letters in his handwriting, addressed respectively to the Countess, to himself (M. de Zichy), to Count Kalnoky, and to a rich Austrian financier living in Paris. M. de Zichy waited on the Countess, and after preparing her for the sad event handed her the letter addressed to her, which made her utter a despairing cry, leaving as it did no doubt as to the calamity which had befallen her.

What had taken place was this. The Count, after leaving the Hotel Meurice, crossed the Place de la Concorde, and took the direction of the Champs Elysées, which he ascended on the left side. At the Palais de l'Industrie, a friend, looking round, saw him approaching, and stopped and asked him how he was. He learned that the Ambassador was proceeding on foot to the Bois de Boulogne. His friend remarked that the Count would breakfast late, he replied, "I often breakfast late," and hurried away, as if undesirous of continuing the conversation. His friend followed him at a distance in the same direction—viz., towards the Arc de Triomphe. It was then 12.15; and, as it was beginning to rain slightly, the equestrians from the Bois de Boulogne were returning in masses, so that the Ambassador was saluted four or five times. According to the person who was following him at some distance, he responded to only one or two of these greetings. On reaching the corner of the Rue Galilée, and seeing, doubtless, the returning equestrians increase in number, he suddenly turned up that street, where his friend lost sight of him.

Twelve minutes or a quarter of an hour later the workmen engaged in the building of the mansion at the corner of the Rue Galilée and Avenue Marceau heard a loud report proceed from one of those old-fashioned urinals which are fitted with doors. One of the doors fell, and the body of a man, his hand clasping a revolver, and his head bleeding, rolled on to the pavement. A crowd collected, but did not at first touch the body, which, however, after a few minutes was drawn on to a heap of sand placed ready for mixing, and two workmen placed bags of plaster under his head in order to stop the profuse bleeding. The supposition of the crowd, from his having fallen near a house in course of construction and from his clothes being daubed with mud, sand, and plaster, was that he was a builder who had killed himself. A valet, however, among the crowd pointed out that the soles of his boots were blackened, a custom rare in France, and that he must be a man belonging to the upper classes. Meanwhile, after a few spasms, he had expired, without uttering a word.

EDITOR'S TABLE

Nothing new yesterday, except the Araucania's mails, which we give in another column, but the news is not later than that by the Canadian. Pantomime and Plum Pudding absorbed public attention in England when the steamer sailed. The London papers appear sorry for Gambetta. Germany is the only place where the deceased celebrity has been paid no compliments, false or true.

The Scotch Sunday School Pic-nic starts from the Constitucion Station this morning at 9-5 sharp. Everything looked promising yesterday for a delightful day for the little ones. One Scotch gentleman has ordered 300 tarts for them.

There will be morning service at the Scotch Church on Sunday next, but no evening service, nor Sunday School.

We are requested to state that the only service at the Flores Episcopal Chapel on Sunday will be in the morning at 11 o'clock.

The usual dreary Police Edict in reference to Carnival was published yesterday. It is the same old horse, with the "mismismo" trappings—same Corso, same "don't throw stones, bricks, or water," same everything. The public are utterly indifferent about the whole affair; but a few buckets of water well aimed will, no doubt, after 2 p.m. Sunday, induce a good many people to take an interest in the business. At the fashionable Clubs, "on dit" that several leading "belles" mean to initiate a reform and discard masks, thus turning the ball into a Fancy one. We say hear, hear to this. Porteñas are too handsome to hide their faces under a hideous mask.

More complaints from Rosario, i. e. about delivery of letters and newspapers. Saturday's despatch was only delivered there on Monday. The commercial correspondence may be considered by the post master as of small importance, but he surely owes some respect to the "Press"—the fourth power in the state.—Some steps should be taken to remedy this. There is no valid reason why the Rosarinos should not have papers and letters delivered before 10 o'clock on the day after posting from here.

There is very little reliable news about the state of affairs in Montevideo. The impression that the unfortunate prisoners have been secretly put out of the way gains ground here.

The Italia steamed out of the Boca on Wednesday evening, without any assistance from tugs, although the tide was low at the time.

The La Plata Club will give its first Carnival ball to-morrow night.

We were not aware till yesterday, when we read the news in one of our Italian colleagues, that it was General Menabrea, Italian Ambassador in Paris, who supplied the plan of the recent Egyptian Campaign, to the British Government!!! We thought it was Lord Wolseley. What a pity that history has left us in the dark as to who supplied Napoleon with the plan of the campaign that ended at Austerlitz, and Wellington with hints for those of the Peninsula and Waterloo.

Here's some news which an engineer subscriber has sent us and says we ought to publish. As he says so, we'll do it:—"The largest locomotive in the world is now on the Pennsylvania Railroad, having been recently built at the Company's Works Altoona. The engine weighs 120,400 pounds and is what is called a double-ender. The driving wheels are 5 feet and the truck wheels 33 inches in diameter. On her trip from Altoona to Philadelphia a mile was run in 59 seconds. A special train consisting of three cars and engine made the following certified times: 10½ miles in 14 minutes; 61.1 miles in 60 minutes and 76.1 miles in 76 minutes. Mr. Barnet Le Van read a paper before the Franklin Institute, in which he contended that 90 miles an hour is not only safe, but perfectly feasible.

The Diario knows English very well, but "weak-kneed" is a little too much for it. Try again colleague. Stick to the Evangelist!

The Libertad agrees with us that B. Aires fair maids and matrons are far too fat and should take more walking exercise.

Chops and tomato sauce! The Germans in making tomato sauce put one or two slices of lean ham at the bottom of the stewpan. This is a great improvement, but a little more extravagant. Fried eggs with tomato sauce are excellent. It is a preeminently bourgeois dish, but none the less good for that. So is maccaroni with the same condiment. By the way, why does not some one translate a good book on on the cuisine bourgeois, such as Kidalin's, for example?

The last number of the Periodico del Estanciero is very good—lots of information, about wool, maize, overstocked camps &c.

H M gun vessel Heroine has entered Montevideo, last from the Cape de Verdes.

We feel great pleasure in saluting the highly esteemed British Chaplain in Rosario, the Revd. Mr Lett, who is on a visit to town. We are glad to see him in good health, and wish him a pleasant stay here.

Travellers by the Central Northern Railway complain bitterly of the unnecessary delay in the transit between Cordoba and Tucuman, and vice versa, occupying two days, and the inconvenience of stopping a night at "Recreo." There might have been some excuse for this heretofore, owing to the scarcity of locomotives, but now that we understand the line is well supplied both with carriages and locomotives, recently sent out by the Government agent in Europe, Mr. Paz, there is no reason why night trains should not be run, and Tucuman placed within a day's journey from Cordoba. The growing interests of the trade of the Interior demand that there should be quick carriage communication and every facility afforded to merchants and merchandize. There is want of public accommodation in the railways in this country in general. The Diario touches on the above point in a recent issue.

Dean Monsignor Dillon left yesterday evening for Montevideo, for a short stay at the baths there. We wish our distinguished countryman a pleasant holiday and re-invigorated health.

Dr. Fordyce (a physician and scientist of some eminence in the last century) contended that as one meal a day was enough for a lion, so it ought to suffice for a man. And in support of this theory, the doctor used to eat only a dinner during the twenty-four hours—but then this consisted of a fish, a pound and a half of rump steak, boiled chicken, a quart of strong ale, with a quarter of a pint of brandy. After this he would go and deliver his usual lecture on astronomy and chemistry.

A gentleman connected with the great works now going on at Bahia Blanca, wishes to express, through our columns, his indebtedness to Mr Oxenford, of the Southern Railway, for his courtesy and the accurate information he gave him, on his introduction by Dn. Carlos Escurra.

The fruit crop at the Tigre this year beats everything hitherto known. The famous Calzetta Island sank a fathom into the river owing to the weight of peaches, pears and grapes on it, but is now rising again, as the fruit is being sold rapidly. During the month of January 35,000 baskets of peaches, containing 400 each, were sent to town from the Tigre. Most of the fruit has been sold for making "cana," and it is considered the best. The apple supply is enormous, and everybody in the Tigre is making cider. The Italians there assembled the other night and did us the unmerited honour of drinking our health in the first brew, as they liked our article, "The Boca for Ever," which Mr. Calzetta was kind enough to translate for them. Signori, a thousand thanks!

Edwin James, examining a witness, asked him what his business was. He answered, "A dealer in old iron." "Then," said the counsel, "you must, of course, be a thief." "I don't see," replied the witness, "why a dealer in iron must necessarily be a thief more than a dealer in brass."

Mr. Spurgeon tells a story of a gentleman who, on his way home one dark night, was encountered by a footpad, with the demand, "Money, or your life." The gentleman's reply was "I haven't any money; I have been to a bazaar." The highwayman immediately recognised the force of the reasoning and made up a subscription for him.

One of the toreros at Montevideo fared badly in the bull fight on Sunday last, and received such a prod from one of the poor beasts that he wont forget it in a hurry. He has been in bed ever since, and declares that the cause of the mishap was, that his nerves are unstrung through being parted from his mother-in-law, who is in Spain.

Russia has 70,000 men and 80 guns massed on the Turkish Armenian frontier. In Ireland more fighting between the people and the military.

Miss Negri, the Argentine prima donna who made her debut at the Colon Theatre two years ago, and was declared by the critics to be "no great things," is now creating a sensation at San Remo, in the "Barber of Seville."

THE CHUBUT AFFAIR.

To the Editor of the Standard.

Sir,

In your kind article respecting our arrest and treatment, there are two statements in what was represented to you in the Government House which we cannot allow to go uncorrected (restrained as we have hitherto been to perfect passiveness), lest we lose the sympathy of your readers, which is to us invaluable, as an antidote to the indignity.

The first was, that the French savants' reports were against us. From an intimate connexion with those gentlemen I am able to deny such an insinuation. It was by their good offices we were released on parole, and we had their perfect sympathy, to my full knowledge.

The second was, that "120 colonists were against us and 60 with us." Surely there are more than 180 colonists in a population of 1500. What of the remainder? But what is probably meant by the 120 is a paper emanating from the Comisaria, and signed by some of the colonists (probably half the number indicated) declaring their "respect for and acceptance of the National authorities" and desiring not to be counted as culpable"—such signatures obtained by the secretary of the Comisaria when collecting the statistics. We shall have something to say when the proper time arrives as to the means employed to obtain those names. But—what is more to the point—we hold a document from many of those who signed, explaining very clearly their accordance with our views, and probably nearly all the rest would have been glad to sign the same, had time allowed it. As to the 60 in our favour, another cipher added to it would not cover our sympathizers. Practically we are all of one accord—never was more unanimity manifested.

Thanking you warmly for your sympathy and exertions in our behalf,

I am,

Yours truly,
R. J. Berwyn,

Buenos Aires, Feb. 1, 1883.

CHINESE DOCTORS.

One of the most melancholy chapters of Chinese medicine is the superstitious and idolatrous practices connected with guarding the sick from the destructive spirit of disease. This is accomplished by various incantations, and by the exhibition, on the bed and walls of the room, of hideous pictures to frighten away the genii of evil. Sometimes the patient's face is painted in the most grotesque manner, in fantastic shapes and colours, giving the whole wretched scene, were not the life and health of the patient at stake, a most ludicrous aspect. Happily for the Chinese, nearly all their medicines are inert—as pearls, tigers' bones, rhinoceros-horns, fossil bones, and numerous other articles as inert are used, which are absolutely without any medicinal virtue. Were it otherwise, it would require no gift of prophecy to predict that the whole land would be a grave-yard and its teeming cities would be turned into desolation.—The Practice of Medicine in China.

Dr. Ayer's
Compound Extract

For the certain and radical cure of all those diseases which arise from Impurity of the Blood.

It is very foolish—indeed it amounts to imbecility—to attempt experiments with inferior preparations composed of worthless drugs or of such indigenous plants or herbs whose ordinary effects are not confirmed by Medical Science, whilst the malady with which you are attacked is daily gaining ground in your system.

Put aside all thoughts of these and take instead and at once, a remedy guaranteed by actual experience and by the medical faculty all over the world, to be unquestionably the most efficacious in all Diseases of the Blood or Blood Poisoning.

Dr AYER'S Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla is a well-known remedy of 40 years standing, and is prescribed by all eminent physicians throughout the world. Hundreds of thousands of sick and infirm persons have realized the benefits arising from the use of this truly honest medicine; and they are so many evidences of its incomparable virtues and of the good results obtained by their faithful use.

REFRESHING FRAGRANCE!

Neither the French, English nor German perfumes possess any refreshing or invigorating properties their heavy, sweet smell quickly becoming oppressive and disagreeable; not so with the fresh floral fragrance of MURRAY & LANMAN'S FLORIDA WATER, which, after years of constant use, is found more refreshing than at the first trial.

THE PERFUME OF FRESHLY-culled flowers is agreeable to every one, and so it is with the delightful fragrance of MURRAY & LANMAN'S FLORIDA WATER. None reject it, is the universal favorite on the handkerchief, at the toilet, and in the bath.

ON 'CHANGE.

	February 1st, 1883
Patacon	25.01
Cedulas B	98
Cedulas E	84½
National Bank Shares	105½
Old Gas Shares	1,450 m/c.

The market opened this morning with a feeling of satisfaction that the liquidation of January had passed off so smoothly. One of the peculiar features of the market is the plethora of money, which is being offered on stocks; although large amounts were taken up yesterday on National Bank Shares, heavy balances remained over. The money market presents a more favorable aspect, and operations are easier.

National Bank Shares opened this morning with a very bullish feeling. Many brokers received orders to buy large numbers of shares, but could not carry them out in view of the sudden rise in prices. Rates for cash opened at 106¼ and closed at 105½. Speculation for the end of the month embraced 2,400 shares; prices opened at 106½, rose to 107 and closed at 106½. The closing rates shew a weaker feeling in the stock, but there is a visible upward tendency in the speculation.

Telegrams were received to-day from Europe with favorable prospects for the contract of the National Bank. It is expected that Messrs. Murrietta, the Comptoir d'Escompte, Cahen & Reinach & Co. will effect the business. This news, coupled with the very favorable report of the Bank for the last year, stiffened prices in the market. There appear to be few doubts as to the successful realisation of the Franken contract.

The returns of the Custom House yesterday amounted to $122,886. It is seldom indeed that the receipts of one day reach such a high figure. The receipts of the month of January are quite exceptional, amounting to $1,596,939. It is the first time in the annals of the Custom House that such high returns have been witnessed in one month. Such exceptional figures clash strangely with the very dull and apathetic condition of the produce markets. The import market is very heavy with goods, and the shipments from Europe succeed each after with alarming rapidity. The activity at the Custom House is immensely greater than that at the Once or Plaza Constitucion. Exports are moving off in larger quantities and freights are very firm.

Cedulas ruled very dull this morning and only $f.41,200 were sold. A few Series B changed hands at 98 o/o. Series E is quoted at 84½ for cash and at 84¾ and 85 for the end of the month. A few thousand were sold for the end of March at 85¼. The liquidation has had a very slight effect on the market.

Old Gas Shares rule very firm; 120 were sold to-day at $1,450 % each.

The market welcomes the appointment of Dr. S. Luro as President of the Chamber of Commerce of the Bolsa. Mr. Luro is one of the most popular men in commercial and political circles.

The Provincial Government has finally settled the delicate question of the junction of the Western and Transandine Railways, to the entire satisfaction of both parties. The works on the Transandine line will now be pushed ahead with great activity.

Messrs. G. Gowland & Co. will sell off by auction on the 9th inst. 650 boxes of tea of different qualities. The 650 boxes contain 14,000 lb of tea. Messrs. Gowland will also sell on the 8th inst. 10,000 kegs of kerosene.

The export of pressed alfalfa from this country to Brazil has assumed large proportions of late. The barque Meganticook left Rosario yesterday with over 1,000 bales. This staple of export is yet in its infancy, and activity in this line is very recent.

The Water Board has thrown out the tenders presented for the completion of the City Improvement Works. There were a few hopes that the Devoto tender might be spared, but it shared the fate of the other two. New tenders will now be presented on a lower basis, no doubt, by the holders of the first tenders. It is to be hoped that there will be no serious delays about this business, and that the works will be begun before the end of the year.

Mr. A. Lanusse, so favorably known in the market, has been re-appointed Secretary of the Camara de Comercio. He is the right man in the right place.

Mr. Latzina has published in pamphlet form the articles on the parishes of this city, which appeared in several native colleagues last year. Mr. Latzina's official valuation of real estate in this city amounts to about $f.191,000,000, which at 5 o/oo gives a Contribucion Directa tax yield of $f.953,000. The pamphlet bristles with interesting figures and is worthy of perusal.

The liquidation of the month on the Montevidean Bolsa passed off very smoothly. About $10,000,000 of the Deuda Amortizable were liquidated. The many political rumours afloat in the sister city have made brokers very cautious, and operations are being carried on with much prudence in anticipation of any unforseen emergency in politics. Prices of Deuda declined somewhat on the 31st, but the market is calm.

Telegrams from Rio announce a drop in exchange. The rate is quoted at 21 3/8d. The exchange market here shows some symptoms of firmness. Francs were done to-day on Antwerp at 5.26. Some operations in gold for cash are reported at 25.01. Gold operations yesterday afternoon were pretty active.

The Official Report of the trade of Chile during 1881, has arrived per P.S.N.C. Britannia. The delays in the publication of official reports in Chile are as great as in this country. The report only appeared last month in Valparaiso. The following figures of the trade of the Transandine Republic during 1881 shew the great prosperity of the country:—

Exports	$ 6,328,859
Imports	39,564,814
Balance of exports	20,961,045

The great excess of exports over imports shews the very flourishing condition of Chile and mainly arises from the increase of exports through the Peruvian ports, occupied by Chilian forces.

The sales at the ring were as follows:—

Cedulas—
For cash B 2,000 at 98
For cash E 9,200 at 84½

Primitive Gas Shares—

At about three o'clock there was a scene in the liquidation room, caused by a dispute between two brokers—a sort of Bank Share row that amounted to nothing.

Exchange was done to-day at 49⅝, and 5.26 on Antwerp, and drawers offering at this rate.

Mr. Elliott, who has arrived down from Salto, B.O., was welcomed on 'Change. Mr. Wilkinson, also of Salto, has arrived and leaves for England.

As will be seen by a telegram from London, Argentine Treasury Bonds are at 108.

Sales of horned cattle at 170 and at 180 % "al corte" are reported on the estancias in the South. Novillos for sale everywhere, and few buyers.

The sale of 3,000 E. R. dry hides for the States reported at reserved rates.

It was said on 'Change that another offer was made yesterday to the Directors of the National Bank for the loan advance on the Bonds; as yet nothing certain seems to be known, but the news stirring about this matter put up the stock this afternoon.

Mr T. F. Hughes was welcomed to-day on his return from Montevideo. He reports a very dull state of affairs in the Mount. It appears that more is made out of the barrack mutiny in Buenos Aires than in Montevideo.

The returns of the Rosario Custom House for January amounted to $f.247,000.

Advices from Montevideo report a general advance of property and the construction of new houses. There are at present very few houses to let in the Mount and rents are rising. The shares of the Progreso Oriental are quoted at $15 to 17.

The arrival of wool in the South continue very heavy. Operations continue on the usual scale. A leading Dysentery, Cholera Fever, Ague, Coughs, Colds, &c.

Dr J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne
(Ex Army Medical Staff)

IS THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

CAUTION—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood stated that Dr J. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant, Freeman, being the inventor was deliberately untrue, which he regretted had been sworn to. Eminent hospital physicians of London stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the discoverer of Chlorodyne; that they prescribe it largely, and mean no other than Dr Browne's.—See Times, July 12th 1864.

The Public, therefore, are cautioned against using any other than

Dr J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne.

REMEDIAL USES AND ACTION.

This invaluable remedy produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the system, restores the deranged functions, and stimulates health action of the secretions of the body, without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons testify to its marvellous good effects and wonderful cures, while medical men extol its virtues most extensively.

CHLORODYNE is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for coughs, consumption, bronchitis, asthma.

CHLORODYNE effectually checks and arrests too often fatal diseases Diphtheria Fever, Crup, Ague.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charming Diarrhoea, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, Jan. 5th 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, London—"Dear Sir, we embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the wide-spread reputation this justly-esteemed medicine, DR COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy of general utility, we much question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands we are happy to say are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances ad infinitum of the extraordinary efficacy of DR. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE in Diarrhœa, and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomitting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Choleraic Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's, from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a "deliberate breach of faith on the part of the chemist to prescriber and patient alike." We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes & Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain, His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists."

Extract from the General Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in Cholera—"So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all classes."

CAUTION—None genuine without the words 'Dr J. Collis Browne or the Government Stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

The oven is one dug in the ground, and is just large enough to hold our daily quantum of two loaves. We use flour, water, salt, and BORWICK'S BAKING POWDER. My bread often surprises me, it is so light, and white as snow. Some of our men will insist that I have been 'in the trade,' and nothing I can say will convince them to the contrary."
